

MANY MIRRORETTES

Short Items and News Notes of General Interest to Our Readers

Dinner and Bazar Nov 7—Adv.
The city council met Monday evening.

Hear the Cheney Concert Co. Oct. 21.—Adv.

W. O. Wright's have returned to Sharon, Kas.

Remember the Bazaar Nov 7, and be there.—Adv.

Postmaster James Coday's are in Springfield today.

Dr. F. H. Riley is having a cistern made at his residence.

P. L. Leidy, of West Plains, visited relatives here Friday.

J. P. Anderson's of Springfield visited relatives here during the week.

Cecil Hoover, of Kansas City, visited home folks here during the week.

Wm. Coday has had a new porch made in the front of his residence.

Frank Scheuermann is able to be up again after an illness of three weeks.

Miss Dorothy Rhodes, of Seymour, has been visiting the Jake Hoover home.

The Southwest Missouri Medical Society meets at Springfield Nov. 9 and 10.

Don't forget that we have Hot and Cold Lunches. Hilsabeck's Bakery.—Adv.

Miss Marjorie Somers, of Springfield, has been visiting at G. S. Burney's.

Eat dinner Nov. 7 with the M. E. Aid Society—they will feed you well.—Adv.

FOUND—Pocketbook; owner please call at this office and prove property.

W. M. Divan's mother, of Springfield, visited at his home during the week.

Miss Easter Roberts, of Hartsville, visited at Rev. Joseph Davis' during the week.

Editor Hull of the Mercer Signal was here last week enroute to Ava on business.

Gus Brazzel has bought the Mrs. Rinda Brazzel property and has moved thereto.

Just received a fresh shipment of Loose-Wiles fine candies at Hilsabeck's Bakery.—Adv.

Patronize Home Industry—Buy your Bread, Pies, Cookies and Cakes at Hilsabeck's.—Adv.

Fresh fish at M. G. Hensley's store, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 20 and 21.—Ben Otto.—Adv.

FOR SALE—A few thoroughbred Plymouth Rock cockerels. Adv. MRS. J. B. FREEMAN.

Lots of useful things on our bargain counter.—Adv.

F. N. DYER, FURNITURE CO.

J. D. Reynolds attended a meeting of the Democratic county committee at Hartsville Monday.

Joe Mashburn, of Seymour, was here Monday; he will do cleaning and pressing here every Thursday.

Dr. J. W. Floyd, Veterinary Surgeon, Phone 58, Mansfield, Mo. Calls answered day or night.—Adv.

Go to J. D. REYNOLDS and buy the John Deere implements of all kinds. Also wagons and buggies.—Adv.

The Cheney Concert Co. and their "White House" Golden Chimes—at the school house Saturday evening, Oct. 21.—Adv.

H. E. Brazzel has bought a new Springfield wagon from D. W. Hoover and says the prettiest woman in the country will have a new wagon in which to come to Mansfield.

LOST—Between the drug store and Macomb depot, an old fashioned gold breast pin, most valuable as a keepsake. Finder please return to Miss Edith Schaffer at Mrs. F. H. Riley's and receive reward.—Adv.

Home made Candies at Hilsabeck's.—Adv.

Ernest Coday's of West Plains, visited relatives here during the week.

The Parent-Teacher Association meets at the school house Friday evening.

Cream Puffs, Chocolate eclairs, and Almond Macaroons Saturday Hilsabeck's Bakery.—Adv.

We have just put in a bargain counter. Come in and see it.—Adv.

F. N. DYER, FURNITURE CO.

Miss Augusta V. Anderson is visiting relatives at Neosho. She expects to spend the winter there.

You will enjoy the Cheney Concert Co. program at the school house Saturday evening, Oct. 21. Be there.—Adv.

Cleaning and pressing done cheaply—second door from post office—every Thursday.—Adv.

JOE MASHBURN.

See our oil cloth, men's cloth gloves, and suspenders, on our bargain counter.—Adv.

F. N. DYER, FURNITURE CO.

R. A. Alcorn of the R. A. Alcorn Hardware Co was looking after business in Seymour this week; he expects to move his family here soon.

Mayor F. H. Riley reports that there is plenty of water in the city well in the park and that a new pump has been ordered, to be installed next week.

JUST RECEIVED—A lot of nice spring Dress Goods and Men's, Ladies' and Children's Slippers. Come and see them. Adv. J. D. REYNOLDS.

FOR SALE—A 4-room house and two good lots in Burney's addition to Mansfield; will be sold at a bargain. Adv. JOHN GARNER.

Will the party who unintentionally took from the fair exhibit some peach preserves please return to Mrs. R. M. Rogers or leave at the Mirror office.—Adv.

R. N. Farren went to Springfield last week to join his family. They will make their home in Houston, Texas, where Mr. Farren represents the Maxwell Motor Co.

Hon. Cornelius H. Fauntleroy, of St. Louis, will deliver a Democratic speech in Mansfield, Saturday, Oct. 14, at 1:30 p. m. He speaks at Hartsville at 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Last evening the A. F. & A. M. conferred the entered apprentice degree upon John Strong and R. R. Wright; a called meeting will be held Monday evening for the further conferring of the degree.

See our blankets, comfortables, writing tablets, pencils, on our bargain counter.—Adv.

F. N. DYER FURNITURE CO.

The Fair is over, and real work is going to begin with the Kid Band. Come up to the band hall any Tuesday night and let's talk band. We are going to have a Kid Band that can give a good account of itself by the first of the year.

Tarah Tarbuton has leased the J. K. P. Coday building next door to the telephone office and will open up a garage, where he will also do repair work and sell auto accessories. The building is being remodeled to suit his needs.

Obituary

Mrs. Sarah Dennis passed away at 9:15 p. m. yesterday at her home 2 1/2 miles northeast of Mansfield after a long illness. The funeral will be conducted tomorrow afternoon. She was one of this community's oldest and best citizens, and a suitable obituary will appear next week.

Fair Warning.

I have had deputized four men who will be on duty Halloween night, in addition to our night watchman, and fair warning is given that the destruction of property will not be tolerated. Adv. F. H. RILEY, Mayor.

THEY WERE ALL HERE

Large Crowds, Fine Exhibits, Good Attractions Fair Features

Favorable weather conditions and good crowds of merry makers marked every one of the three days of Mansfield's Fifth Annual Agricultural and Stock Show, held Oct. 5, 6 and 7 in the Gem City of the Ozarks. The show lived up to its name of the World's Fair of the Ozarks. Exhibits were good in every department; there was plenty of amusement for all, and refreshment stands provided food and drink for the hungry and thirsty. With the exception of a few disturbances, good order prevailed throughout the fair. The handling of such large crowds was no small job, and our officers are to be commended for the zeal with which they kept down trouble and quelled disturbances when they arose. Friday was the big day, the crowd that day being the largest of any of the three days. There was also an enormous crowd Saturday, and a big crowd Thursday; in fact, there were lots of people here all week.

From Thursday morning, bright and early, to Saturday midnight was one continuous round of music, fun and frolic, the carnival spirit being manifested everywhere. The fair this year was one of the best ever held here, the people being determined to have a good time in a good way; that is, most of them. Some few seemed determined to have what they considered a good time, but in a wrong way, but they were in the minority. Most of our people and visitors had the right spirit and we were glad to have them here, but there are some we wish had stayed away, or if they must come, we wish they had gone away back and sat down and behaved themselves. All in all, it was a satisfactory affair and a worthy demonstration of the fact that we always raise good things in the Ozarks, that our women folk are skilled in the domestic sciences and the fine art of needle work, and that our school children are there with the goods in their school work.

The public school was dismissed Thursday at noon for the week and the school children and teachers, together with the janitor, paraded from the school house to the park, headed by the Mansfield Concert Band, whose music livened up the march. The children sang and gave their yells in the park, and this feature proved one of the enjoyable incidents of the fair.

Friday seemed to be Seymour day, as on that day our city was invaded by a host of Seymourites headed by their splendid band, and Col. Carl Garner of the Seymour Citizen, secretary of the Ozark Press Association and one of the best boosters of the Ozarks. The Seymour people took us by storm, and we are proud of the large delegation they sent. They never do things by halves; they were all here. Their band is in excellent condition, and the fine music they gave us during their stay here added much to the day's exercises and was highly appreciated, being highly complimented by all. Large delegations from all the other surrounding cities and villages were also present that day, and every other day. The Hartsville schools were dismissed Friday in order that the Hartsville school children might visit the fair that day, in company with Cal Hentsinger's famous Kid Band, whose music, notwithstanding the youth of the band, is of a high order. Their coming was timely and appreciated, and their musical selections were given a hearty reception. The county seat was practically deserted Friday and Saturday, while their citizens visited the fair. Some of the Seymour crowd were also here Saturday.

The stores and banks at Hartsville closed Friday in order that all might attend the Mansfield fair. We appreciate this courtesy on the part of our county seat friends.

On account of the large crowds attending from Ava the Kansas City, Ozarks and Southern Railway maintained special train service, and many also came in from the Douglas county metropolis by automobile, as well as from Mountain Grove, which city also sent many visitors by train. Macomb, Cedar Gap, Norwood, Bryant, and other places sent large delegations; in fact, they were all here. And why not? This was the logical place to be, and they were at the logical place. "We have never failed to please." The people know that Mansfield always has all she advertises, and more, too. From the human interest standpoint, the Mansfield fair is always a success.

Macomb was also here in force, the school at that place having been dismissed for the day Friday.

There were on the grounds numerous candidates, who took advantage of the occasion to present their pleas for election this fall.

Among the newspaper visitors we noted Col. Carl Garner of the Seymour Citizen, Will F. Candler, Editor of the Mountain Grove Herald, Editor Hull of the Mercer Signal, J. E. Curry of the Douglas County Herald and O. B. Davis of Ava.

Without M. L. Andrews of Bryant the fair management would have been up against it for a poultry judge.

Mr. Andrews is a judge of all kinds of poultry, and we understand there is only one other judge of all varieties in the state. He was urged by the St. Louis fair people to come and judge the poultry there at a good salary, but instead he came to Mansfield and donated his services. Men like that are few and far between, but then Mr. Andrews is an exceptionally good all around man. The Springfield papers contained the statement that he was to judge the poultry at their fair and finally said he was unable to attend to the same on account of sickness. Mr. Andrews was not asked to judge there, so there is a mistake somewhere. Was someone just trying to make use of his reputation?

A new feature of this year's display was a mineral department, in which A. T. Friend made a fine exhibit, showing that the mineral deposits here are well worth looking after.

The award for the finest display of poultry was won by the junior editor of the Mirror, who we believe, has more varieties of pure bred poultry than anyone in this community. This item is written by the senior editor with out the junior editor's knowledge or consent, so please do not say anything to her about it.

H. M. Norcross' 800 pound Poland China boar attracted considerable attention, not only on account of its size but because of its superior qualities. Mr. Norcross has a good herd of big boned Poland Chinas and they are all dandies. In the Duroc Jersey line, Joe H. Dennis was there with the goods. He has so many good pigs that all he has to do to win a prize is to grab a pig and bring it in; they are all winners.

The exhibits for all departments, except stock, were in the G. W. Freeman and W. B. Hitchcock buildings, next to the post office, the use of which was kindly donated. The stock were in the tent and pens put up opposite the Mansfield Produce Co.

A lady who visited both the Mansfield and Springfield fairs remarked that the exhibits here were better than at Springfield.

Extra copies of this week's issue may be had for a jitney each; buy 'em and send to your friends. Let 'em know what we do in the Ozarks.

FAIR'S ATTRACTIONS

Political Speaking and Parade, Zat Zams, Shows and Basketball

Friday was Democratic day, the speaker being Congressman Thos. L. Rubey of Lebanon, who is the nominee of his party for reelection. He spoke in the big Crawford tent at 1 p. m., being introduced by J. D. Reynolds, committeeman from Pleasant Valley township, who presided over the meeting, and presented Mr. Rubey in a few well chosen remarks. Other prominent Democrats were seated on the platform, and the tent was packed with interested hearers. Congressman Rubey's address was free from partisan issues, and was strictly confined to his splendid record as representative in the House of Representatives at Washington from the 18th district. Time and again he was interrupted with applause as he scored some points that struck home with his audience. The Mansfield Concert Band furnished music for the occasion.

Saturday was Republican day, for which occasion music was also furnished by the Mansfield Concert Band. The speakers of the day were Hon. Ashley H. Harrison of Steelville, Republican nominee for congress from the 18th district, and Hon. R. L. Johnston of Pulaski county, who spoke to a large audience in the big tent at 11 a. m. Preceding the speaking the Hughes Lamm Club gave an automobile parade, the speakers of the day being in the M. E. Gorman auto, with Mrs. Gorman, and Joe H. Dennis, committeeman from Pleasant Valley township and president of the Hughes Lamm Club. H. B. Paul's car was the pilot car. American flags and numerous banners with appropriate wording made a pleasing feature of the parade, and while there was an enthusiastic crowd of Republicans along the line of march. The Democrats, too, of course, viewed the parade, and it was they who yelled for Wilson and Gardner, and not occupants of the autos in the parade, as the Springfield Leader reported. The Leader also says there were only five cars in the parade but they were evidently unable to count, as there were twice five, and then some. The day was marked by genuine old-time Republican enthusiasm, and the speakers were accorded a close hearing and frequently applauded. The meeting was presided over by Joe H. Dennis, the introductions being appropriately made by Col. L. O. Nieder, who is himself an orator of no mean ability. Mr. Harrison ably discussed the current issues and made a good impression on his hearers by his earnestness and straightforward talk. He stated what he would stand for if elected to congress by the voters of this district at the November election. Mr. Johnston gave an interesting talk, with many humorous anecdotes to enliven the occasion. Several prominent Republicans occupied seats on the platform. The management of Crawford's Comedians are to be commended for their kindness in giving the use of their tent for the Democratic and Republican speaking.

The Democrats had a banner across Commercial Street: "Vote for Woodrow Wilson and save the country." The Republicans put up one reading "Vote for Hughes and Fairbanks and restore Prosperity," also one reading "Hughes Lamm Club."

The Zat Zams, in their knife throwing and balancing illusion acts, drew tremendous crowds, and elicited well merited applause on every "These free attractions were secured by the management after the advertising matter for the fair had been issued, but when the opportunity came to secure the famous Zat Zams, the contract was signed, the interest their acts attracted daily was evidence enough that it was a feature that took with the people.

Just to show folks that Mansfield is in the front rank from an athletic viewpoint, the local High School basketball team decisively trounced the Seymour High School five by the score of 13 to 7 Friday afternoon. The game was well fought and replete with thrills, no one being able to pick the winner until the closing stages of the game, the superior team-work of the local boys gradually overcoming the visitors. The star of the game was Deaver of the local team, who exhibited an accuracy for the goal that is rare for a lad in his first year's work on the team. The local boys showed splendidly on team work, but it was evident that they lacked practice in goal shooting. The Seymour boys showed up well, McGinnis at center being their star.

Crawford's Comedians are gone, but not forgotten by a number of people who attended the fair. Each performance was different and seemed to eclipse the preceding one. Comedy, sketches of human interest—all made for clean, appreciated performances. The Crawford shows are of the type that are welcomed wherever they go. And their band is one of the best musical organizations on the road. Saturday night Crawford's award a diamond ring to one of their patrons—Oscar Freeman being the lucky person. They are playing in Walnut Ridge, Ark. this week. Come again, Mr. Crawford.

There was plenty of fun for the kiddies, and grown ups, too, from the Merry Go-Round to Crawford's Big Tent—shooting galleries, cat and doll throwing racks, "hit Villa," ten pins, fortune telling booths, and all the accessories such as pink lemonade, pop corn, etc., all along the pike, to keep the young folks bewildered with delight.

The Mansfield Concert Band, under the direction of J. B. Crouch, formerly of the U. S. Navy, lived up to their reputation, and more, too, as their music throughout the fair was of an unusually high order and much enjoyed by the immense throng of stock show visitors. They put in good time and were always ready to furnish music. Mansfield is certainly proud of her band.

The fair management worked hard and early and late to make the fair a success, and all without one cent of pay. As one farmer remarked: "This is the first time I have worked for the fair, but now I appreciate what you Mansfield people are doing. I had no idea there was so much work connected with a fair." And no one else does, either, until he is connected with one once.

J. C. Carter demonstrated the I. H. C. engine during the fair.

AN ARMY MAN HERE

Corporal E. W. Jones of Springfield, Publicity Man, a Live Wire

Corporal Edward W. Jones, U. S. Army, is the name of the clean cut young man who represented the Army during the fair last week. He brought literature and scenes depicting army life to show people that Uncle Sam's soldier outfit is every whit as fine as it is purported to be. And if results are proof, he convinced. His success was two recruits and a number of prospects. The recruits were U. S. Grantham of Mansfield, and Joye Dugan of Mansfield.

Mr. Jones has enjoyed eleven years of continuous service in the army and is one of the few men who have been fortunate enough to experience duty in practically all of the important undertakings of the army during his career. He served in Cuba with the Army of Pacification in 1906-7; was detailed on the Mexican border for a time; served in the Philippines from 1911 to 1914; and in his time has been stationed at practically all of the important posts in the continental United States.

Like most all army men, Corporal Jones talks, eats and sleeps army. In the service he is known as "Pug." He holds a sharp shooter's medal, and is an expert on setting up exercises and the rifle butts manual.

Just at present he is publicity man for the army recruiting service in this part of Missouri, being located at the Army Recruiting Station, 307 1/2 College St., Springfield. It is his intention to send literature to all eligibles in this district, and in that way interest young men in the army. Eligible means that young men must be sound physically, normal mentally, and have a character that will pass a thorough scrutiny.

Mr. Jones is a native of Dadeville, Dade County, Mo., and is known by, and acquainted with some of the most prominent people of this vicinity.

The Springfield Leader says: Corporal E. W. Jones returned Saturday night from Mansfield where he has been conducting a campaign at the Mansfield fair for recruits. The Mansfield fair, Corporal Jones said, was a great success and several recruits were secured there.

The Springfield papers say that the Mansfield recruits have been assigned to the Coast Artillery Corps and have been sent to Jefferson Barracks. We expect good reports from them.

When H. G. Cunningham donated $1 to the show, he remarked that he would get it back as a premium. He did—and another $1 with it; he won the $2 premium for the best suckling colt.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS
For Plasters For Plasterers
And For Other People Too

ALSO FOR
Liniments, Salves, Oils, Ointments, Etc.

REMEMBER THIS
When The Pains Arrive

FUSON DRUG CO.